THIS IS HOW PAINT CREEK appeared Sunday at 1:30 P. M., at the Ohio Water Service Co. plant. The view is looking west from immediately west of the stand-pipe. The water tower in upper left corner is of The Morton Show Cases, Inc. In the center foreground are the two big open concrete reservoirs used by the water company, with several feet of muddy water standing over them.

THIS IS THE INTERSECTION of South Main Street (looking north) and Circle Avenue Sunday afternoon and not Venice. Two hours after the first trickle came into Main Street about mid-day, it became a torrent two feet deep surging down Circle Avenue. Several venturesome motorists got stalled before the streets were blocked. Usually, trucks with their engines high above the water pushed them out.

ST COURT STREET, over which the heavy traffic of the GCG Highway flows through Washington C. H. was slowed to a crawl by flooded Paint Creek Sunday afternoon. Only one main highway from the north and two from the east were not under water from noon until midnight. Traffic was slowed and backed up for blocks at times on the flooded streets. ## WORST FLOOD IN 39 YEARS SWEEPS CITY

UN Hears Warning from America

Truce Talk Stalemate Sees Growing Concern by Allies

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 — (P)—Stalemate Korean truce talks are bringing increasing concern among spokesmen for the Western Allies. No progress is being made in Panmunjom by United Nations and Communist negotiators.

In Paris, the UN heard the United States declare formally that any further Communist aggression in Southeast Asia would be a matter for "most urgent consideration" by the UN. On the battle front itself, there was little activity. Allied jet aircraft swept into North Korea looking for Red Migs, but could find none. On the ground, only limited patrol action was reported along the frozen 145-mile front. Meanwhile, the Allies have begun exploring the question of what should be done in the event truce talks collapse completely. It was emphasized everywhere possible still will be done to help reach a satisfactory truce, and no unnecessary risks will be taken that might complicate negotiations. Hope of success is not dead.

Dem Leader Opposes Nomination of Truman

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 — (P)—Senator Maybank (D-SC), a key man in Congress on many administration measures, said Monday he is against another term for President Truman.

And Maybank, Democratic national committeeman from South Carolina, predicted "most of the South" will unite behind Senator Russell of Georgia for the party's presidential nomination. "As far as I am concerned, I am for Dick Russell first, last and all the way," Maybank said. He has said that much before, but this is the first time he has voiced opposition to nominating Mr. Truman.

The President hasn't disclosed whether he will run again. Over the weekend, Democratic leaders from 13 midwestern states adopted a resolution calling on the President to be a candidate. They also endorsed Vice President Barkley for another term.

MAYBANK is chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, which passes on economic controls legislation, defense production measure and other important bills. The committee also recommends Senate approval or rejection of the men Mr. Truman nominates for many top posts. Maybank has supported a good many administration programs which came to his committee, but he has opposed some, too. Outside the committee's sphere, he—like virtually all Southern lawmakers—has fought the President's controversial civil rights program.

While the senator declined to say just why he is against nominating Mr. Truman again, it is known his opposition is not based solely on the civil rights issue.

Of late, Maybank has complained openly that his banking committee has not been consulted by the White House in advance of important nominations by the President.

The most recent instance was proposed appointment of Harry McDonald to head the much-investigated Reconstruction Finance Corp.

Friday the committee refused to approve McDonald for the assignment pending further study of the matter, and Maybank so advised the President. Mr. Truman replied, Maybank said, that he would not withdraw the nomination.

Earlier, Maybank had gone over Mr. Truman's head and got a promise from W. Stuart Symington—whose resignation the President had accepted—to stay on temporarily as RFC administrator while the committee studied the McDonald nomination.

MOSCOW, Jan. 28 — (P)—The Soviet press Monday announced the death of Outer Mongolia's premier, Marshal Choi Bal-San, following an operation for a kidney cancer. He was 56.

Six Deaths Are Counted During Flood

Secondary Streams Leave Banks; Big Ohio Is Past Crest

COLUMBUS, Jan. 28 — (P)—Flood waters of several Ohio rivers churned over lowlands Monday, chalking up at least six deaths, untold amounts of damage and drove an estimated 7,000 families from their homes.

Bulk of the damage was along the swollen Ohio River, but areas along secondary streams were getting scares, too.

The crest of the sudden flood neared Steubenville after turning the big bend of the Ohio at East Liverpool. Steubenville looked for a crest of 42 feet as the river rose one foot an hour just ahead of the crest. Flood stage is 32 feet.

Three areas appeared due to take the river's biggest battering.

First to feel the river's might was Steubenville and the area to the south on both sides of the swollen stream. One hundred eighty families moved from their homes in Jefferson County and merchants moved from 22 business houses.

THIS INCLUDED 110 families and 10 firms in Brilliant, 48 families and two firms in Empire and Stratton and eight families in Mingo Junction.

Across the river in New Cumberland, W. Va., 200 families moved out. Other families evacuated at Wellsburg, W. Va.

Downstream at Marietta, Forester Farley, U. S. engineer head, revised downward the crest prediction of 48-49 feet. He said the crest would measure about 44 feet at Marietta, where the flood stage is 36 feet.

Only one road, 50-alternate, still remains open out of the area. It will be closed by crest waters. Merchants have evacuated their stores, schools are shut down and (Please turn to Page Ten)

Water Supply Here Is Safe And Adequate, Officials Say

Water company officials said Monday that it is not necessary to boil city water during the present flood emergency.

Closed down at noon Sunday when flood waters made it impossible to pump water from its wells at the main plant, the Ohio Water Service Co. officials Monday expected to have service back to normal within 24 hours.

The plant was closed when water filled the large reservoirs normally used for water coming from some of the main wells.

When the main plant was closed the auxiliary plant east of Elm Street, was started operating, and was pumping upward of 350 gallons per minute, or around 500,000 gallons per day.

By loud speaker, citizens were asked Sunday to conserve the water supply as much as possible until the main plant was pumping normally once more.

Supt. O. D. Farquhar said Monday noon the company had found that one of the large dug wells was in better condition than any of the others.

WORK OF PUMPING the well was started to place it in good condition. As soon as this is done, which is expected to be within 24 hours, the water will be chlorinated and pumps will then be operated to pump water from four deep rock wells into the big well now being conditioned. The water will then go into the city mains, Farquhar said.

The big well has a flood cover and is 22 feet in diameter and 35 (Please turn to Page Two)

Martial Law Still in Effect

New Egyptian Cabinet Set Up by King Farouk

CAIRO, Jan. 28 — (P)—A new government was sworn into office Monday in a shift directed by King Farouk and viewed by some Western observers as a step which might ease the bloody and violent dispute between Britain and Egypt.

The new prime minister, Aly Maher Pasha, and his cabinet took the oath in Abdin Palace, where they were received by the king. A later announcement said the new government would read to parliament Monday night decrees issued under martial law. Farouk turned Mustapha El Nahas Pasha's Wafd Party regime out of office after the Nahas government's nationalist campaign to drive the British out of the Suez Canal Zone and the Sudan Nahas government termed the outbreak of an attempted revolution.

The new premier pledged himself to fulfill the "independent unity of the Nile Valley"—to get the (Please turn to Page Two)

Chinese Observe New Lunar Year

TAIPEH, Jan. 28 — (P)—Chinese Nationalists toasted advent of the 4,650th lunar year—Year of the Dragon—Sunday with fervent hope it might mark their return to the Red-held mainland. These aspirants pointed out that the Year of the Dragon always is considered a lucky one. In Peiping, capital of Red China, crowds also thronged the streets. Some 10,000 persons celebrated in New York City's Chinatown and many of the 18,000 inhabitants of San Francisco's Chinatown were out.

Murder Charged

HAMILTON, Jan. 28 — (P)—John Kirksey, 30, of Hazelwood is under arrest here for murder following the fatal shooting of Minnie Lee Terry, 29, Hamilton. Kirksey said he shot the woman with a shotgun Saturday night because "she caused my wife to leave me."

State Licenses Being Renewed

COLUMBUS, Jan. 28 — (P)—The Ohio fire marshal's office is working out from under a deluge of requests to renew licenses for restaurants, hotels and dry cleaning establishments. Applications were due Jan. 1.

Fire Marshal Harry J. Callan said more than 1,500 hotel and a similar number of dry cleaning licenses have been renewed. He expects to have virtually all of them renewed by Thursday. But restaurant licenses are something else. The state has about 26,000 licensed eating places. They take longer to handle.

37th Division Set For New Training

CAMP POLK, La., Jan. 28 — (P)—Soldiers of the 37th Infantry (Buckeye) Division, newly arrived at this Louisiana training camp, prepared Monday to launch into training.

On the schedule for the coming week are inspections, issue of equipment, classification tests, and a host of similar details. These over, actual training for the troops will commence.

Meanwhile, the government ordered more temporary housing into the Camp Polk area to take care of the needs of division troops and their families. Some 280 trailers for the camp area are to be furnished in addition to 190 portable family dwellings.

OXFORD, Jan. 28 — (P)—Thomas M. Maxwell, a representative of International Harvester Co. for 35 years, died in his home here Sunday. He was 91.

Damage Heavy As Paint Creek Is on Rampage

Traffic Impeded And Many Families Driven from Homes

The worst flood in 39 years crawled back towards the banks of Paint Creek today after wrecking untold thousands of dollars worth of damage along its swollen path Sunday.

Before it reached its crest about 4 P. M. Sunday it had inundated homes, factories and business houses in the city and drowned at least two cattle in the northwest part of the city.

Heavy rains, including 2.31 inches measured here Saturday night, sent not only Paint Creek, but practically every creek in the county, with the exception of Compton, flooding over their banks.

THERE WASN'T a single report of the loss of life or an injury from the flood.

Most of the property damage from the flood resulted in Washington C. H., where there is the biggest concentration of industry and business within reach of flood water.

Property loss was perhaps highest at the Cudahy Packing Co., where the waters damaged packing cases and cardboard cartons.

The Willis Lumber Co. on Millikan Avenue, reported that one shed containing 65,000 feet of lumber was floated some 50 feet by the flood waters which broke through the east levee of the mill. Much work will be required in drying the lumber and replacing the lumber.

SOME PERSONS, especially along lowland areas on West Temple Street, were driven from their homes, and their furniture heavily damaged by the flood water.

There were other homes inundated along Souty Fayette, South Main Street and Circle Avenue. Some of the residents, fearful of continued rising waters, stayed overnight in homes with neighbors on higher ground.

Basements of hundreds of homes were flooded, and the damage to furnaces was extensive throughout many parts of the city. When the Ohio Water Service Company's pumping plant on North North Street was imperiled by water, operations had to be halted, and the east end plant was forced to supply the entire city with water.

TO REDUCE the strain on the city's water supply the water company sent a car, on which a loud speaker was mounted, throughout the city advising residents to conserve their water.

Waters, pouring down debris-filled Paint Creek, flooded onto Dayton Avenue, West Court Street and South Fayette Streets, slowing or (Please turn to Page Two)

It's sometimes odd where the polio drive will touch heart strings. It was in the heart of a middle-aged patient at the Mt. Logan Sanatorium near Chillicothe this week. He was moved to take 25 cents from his meager earnings and send it in with a personal note to the Washington C. H. Chamber of Commerce.

He wrote: "I'm sending a little contribution to the fund if you'll put it in a polio box for me. It's not much, but the pot-holder business, etc., isn't very good since Christmas, and in here the outgoing is usually more than the incoming."

A representative of the Chamber of Commerce dropped the 25 cent piece in one of the cardboard iron lungs which are spotted in business places in the downtown area to receive funds for the polio drive.

1913 Flood Rose Foot Higher Here than one that Came Sunday

MARCH 26, 1913—Looking up Millikan Avenue from the concrete bridge over Paint Creek, where water was nearly 3 feet in depth. During the flood Sunday water 10 inches deep poured across the street.

Sunday's flash flood was 12 inches short of the record-breaking 1913 flood, as disclosed by marks on the outer walls of the pumping station.

The great flood of March 24, 25, 26 and 27, 1913, followed a total of 13 inches of rainfall over a period of several days.

The present flood came after a total of 2.13 inches of rainfall here over Friday and Saturday, with most of it falling Saturday night.

In northern Fayette County and lower Madison County, rainfall over Saturday and Saturday night must have reached three to four inches, as reports indicate that one big rain followed another late Saturday and during the hours until midnight Saturday.

IN MARCH, 1913, Fayette County streams rose gradually until the peak was reached March 26. Rain continued to fall intermittently, causing the flood to last for several days.

At that time most of central and southern Ohio suffered great damage.

In 1913, water poured the full length of Millikan Avenue from near the concrete bridge over Paint Creek and reached the B&O tracks at the south end of the bridge. Sunday the water was two feet or more under the 1913 mark at the bridge.

Little or no water went over Court Street in 1913. This time, however, the street was under nearly two feet of water and traffic had to be detoured. Whether the different conditions were due to the new concrete bridge holding back the water or to willows along the bank slowing the run-off has not been determined.

In the record flood more water ran over Main, Fayette, North and Sycamore streets, both north and (Please turn to Page Ten)

UN Ballots Whip Soviet

Egypt Also Loser On Libya Issue

PARIS, Jan. 28 — (AP)—The UN General Assembly's special Political Committee Monday swamped Russian and Egyptian proposals that Western Allied air bases and troops be forced to quit the newly-founded kingdom of Libya.

The strongly worded Russian proposal was voted down in Paris.

A paragraph which said the basis for carrying out "military plans aggressive Atlantic bloc" was turned down with only five Soviet bloc votes for it, 38 votes against, and 10 countries abstaining.

Another paragraph calling for withdrawal of all foreign troops and liquidation of foreign military bases in three months attracted only six votes, Iran voting with the Soviet bloc. Thirty-two countries voted against it, 14 abstained.

AN EGYPTIAN proposal calling for removal of foreign troops from Libya in six months and turning bases over to the new Libya government was defeated 29 to 14, with 10 abstentions. Libyan representatives themselves told the committee that the questions should be left to the new Libyan government.

The committee also voted down 47 to 5, with two abstentions, a Russian attempt to knock out a plea for UN membership now for Libya. The plea was included in a 12-power Western resolution calling for continued UN aid to the new African kingdom.

Mrs. Lucy Butcher Called by Death

Mrs. Lucy Butcher, 78, died at her home, 332 Gregg Street, at 3 P. M. Saturday following an illness of eight months.

She was the widow of Joseph Butcher, who died 23 years ago. Mrs. Butcher was a member of the First Presbyterian Church and the Daughters of America.

She leaves two sisters, Mrs. Icy Bloomer of Washington C. H., and Mrs. Katherine Adkins of Columbus.

The Daughters of America are to hold a ritualistic service at the residence Monday at 7 P. M.

Funeral services are to be held at the Church of Christ in Christian Union on Gregg Street at 2 P. M. Tuesday with Rev. Arthur George in charge. Interment is to be in the Washington C. H. Cemetery, under the direction of the Gerstner Funeral Home.

Friends may call any time at the residence on Gregg Street.

Final Tributes Paid

Mrs. Anna Larimer

Final tributes were paid to Mrs. Anna E. Larimer at 2 P. M. Saturday at the Gerstner Funeral Home.

Dr. Paul H. Elliott, pastor of McNair Memorial Presbyterian Church and the Bloomingburg Presbyterian Church, conducted the service. The minister read the Scripture quotation, offered prayer, delivered the funeral sermon and paid a personal tribute to Mrs. Larimer. He also read the hymn, "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

The floral remembrances were taken care of by the pallbearers, Ray, Walter and Walter, Jr., Larimer, Albert Dickey and Robert and Joseph Eastman.

Burial was in the family lot in the Bloomingburg Cemetery.

Water Supply Here

feet in depth. It will form a reservoir from which the water will be pumped, Farquhar explained.

It is expected the four wells will supply an adequate amount of water until the main reservoirs are cleared.

The four deep wells cannot be reached by flood waters, it was pointed out.

Water stood several feet deep on three sides of the pumping plant Sunday, and it was necessary to use tarpaulins and sandbags to prevent the water from flowing into the pumping station and reaching the valuable pumping equipment.

TWO PUMPS were operated to keep the water from rising many feet deep in the pumping plant. The peak of the flood reached the pumping station about 4 P. M. Sunday, then the water started falling. By midnight it had dropped 15 inches and by noon Monday it had fallen 3 feet and was continuing to drop slowly.

Pumping station attendants said the water rose rapidly from midnight until about 8 A. M. Sunday, when it slowed down to a rise of about 1/2 inch an hour.

Man Challenging Fuel Gas Curbs

COLUMBUS, Jan. 28 — (AP)—Harold J. Bricknell of Springfield has asked the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio to stop the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. from carrying out its threat to cut off gas service.

Bricknell's petition said he had a gas furnace installed at his home last Oct. 24 although the company denied him a gas permit. Bricknell said his 12-year-old daughter has a brain tumor. He contends shutting off the gas would be an "inhuman action."

33 of Armories In Ohio Closing

Action Is Taken After 37th Leaves

COLUMBUS, Jan. 28 — (AP)—Adjutant General Albert E. Henderson said Monday afternoon that 33 state-owned armories will be closed because the 37th Division of the Ohio National Guard has entered federal training. The division now is at Camp Colk, La.

Leases on seven other armories will be cancelled.

State-owned armories to be closed to military use and placed under a caretaker are located in Ada, Akron High Street, Ashland, Batavia, Bellefontaine, Blanchester, Boston Mills (Cleveland), Bowling Green, Clyde, Coshocton, Covington, Defiance, Findlay, Fremont, Galion, Greenfield, Hillsboro, Kenton, Manchester, Mansfield, Napoleon, Norwalk, Oak Harbor, Ottawa, Paulding, Port Clinton, Shreve, Sidney, Spencerville, St. Marys, Toledo Secore, Van Wert and Xenia.

Leases will be cancelled in Barberton, Lebanon, Massillon, Urbana, Willoughby Airport, Wooster and Springfield Township.

Eight other armories under lease will be held for decision on their disposition. They are Ashtabula, Painesville, Springfield Mulberry, Willoughby, Chagrin Falls, Lorain and Tiffin.

That leaves eight other leased armories under use by National Guard units.

A total of 34 state-owned armories will be occupied by National Guard units which have not entered federal training.

Seven others recently vacated by National Guardsmen will be put to civil defense use. The Westerville armory will serve as civil defense headquarters for the state.

Other armories in the civil defense system are in Wapakoneta, Warren, Piqua, McConnellsville, Lima and Hamilton.

Reports state Rattlesnake Creek reached its highest stage in recent years, Sunday. Water flooded more than one highway crossed by the stream. However, the flood did not interfere with traffic on the CCC Highway.

Fortunately there was little drift material in the present flood. As a result comparatively little refuse lodged against the two old piling bridges of the B&O and DT&I Railroads, west of the B&O station.

Virtually every foot of the city's property, acquired for park and playground purposes, south of Oakland Avenue, and east of Millikan Avenue, was under water all day Sunday. Water reached a depth of many feet near Paint Creek. Gardner Park was like a lake. Only damage was to the Field House and it was slight.

East Fork of Paint Creek was several feet lower than during the 1913 flood, and at no time was there any danger of the water passing over U. S. Highway 22, which was raised some three feet when the new bridge was built over East Fork a few years ago.

Dr. E. H. McDonald was d e e p through water nearly knee deep to reach a patient on South Fayette Street Sunday afternoon, and then waded back to his car. He was without rubber boots at the time.

While every other stream, large and small, in this section was spreading over thousands of acres, Compton Creek was hardly out of morning, in the Gerstner ambulance for an emergency appendectomy.

Vernon Clay of the Palmer Road, who was inducted into the armed forces January 10, is now stationed at Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Maryland, according to word just received by Mrs. Clay.

Mrs. James Radloff and infant daughter, Sharon Lee, were returned from Memorial Hospital to their home on the Marchant-Luttrell Road Saturday afternoon in the Gerstner ambulance.

Mrs. John McMurray was dismissed from Memorial Hospital to her home, 119 Newberry Street where she was taken Saturday afternoon in the Parrett ambulance. She is recovering from surgery.

Mrs. and Mrs. Robert Rowland of New Holland, are the parents of a daughter, Carol Lee, born in White Cross Hospital, Columbus, Friday.

A son, weighing nine pounds fourteen and one-half ounces, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Reno of Bloomingburg, Monday at 3:18 A. M. in Memorial Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Miron Williamson of Cedarville, are announcing the birth of a nine pound daughter, Saturday at 9 A. M., in Greene County Hospital, Xenia. Dr. and Mrs. Fred D. Woodard, 331 Rawlins Street, are the maternal grandparents.

Flood Sidelights

It wasn't exactly either the time or the place anyone would pick to go fishing, but an unidentified man caught a 3-inch sunfish in the flood water near the intersection of North Street and Broadway. Ray Skidmore said he saw the man catch the wandering little fish about 4:30 P. M. Sunday with his hands. Someone, he said, took the picture, but he did not know either the fisherman or the photographer.

No calls for help have come to the Salvation Army from families routed from their homes by Sunday's flood. W. J. Hilly, the county chairman, said Monday afternoon. However, he said he expected some would be received later when the extent of the damage is learned.

Only one call of a serious nature was received by the Red Cross but, like the Salvation Army, some were expected later.

Dr. and Mrs. O. W. House were caught asleep in their home on Circle Avenue, just off West Court Street, Sunday morning. When they awoke, their home was surrounded by water. . . and their two cars appeared stranded. Dr. House was able to get his Buick sedan, which was parked in the garage driveway, out under its own power. But his Cadillac, in the basement garage was soaked. Water had reached the seats before it was pulled out about noon.

Flooded basement at the Fayette County Co-Op. building on South Fayette Street, between the Pennsylvania and B&O railroads, put the heating unit out of commission Sunday, and it will be a day or two before heat can be restored to the building.

The electricity also was cut off during the flood.

reported to O. W. Landrum, manager of the plant, the damage done to the different buildings.

Worst hit was the storage warehouse, where thousands of ice cream and butter cartons were ruined along with cheese boxes and containers of all types which were stacked in the building.

"THE CARTONS just fell over in heaps—some of them floating away," one workman reported.

There was no damage to the butter, stored in the plant, Landrum said. The stored cheese were not too badly damaged, according to reports.

The ice cream was still frozen and according to Landrum, if the cooling units can be put back into operation within the next few hours about all of the ice cream can be saved. "If not," he said, "it will all be a total loss." There are about 3,000 gallons of all flavors of ice cream stored in the coolers at the present time.

THE MEN HOPE to have the stokers and some of the motors back in operation some time this evening, but other motors and equipment will have to be taken out to a month to get the damage all cleaned up. There was no insurance to cover the loss, according to him.

During the special meeting of the workers Monday morning, Landrum told them, "the damage has been done. Our job now is to get this all cleaned up and back on our normal schedule."

Consolidated Products company, located behind the packing company, also sustained a large amount of damage.

The plant makes condensed buttermilk feed. The feed is shipped out in barrels. The barrels, more than 150 of them, were floating over the entire area. Most of the barrels can be salvaged however, Andrew Andersen, a company official said.

Andersen estimated the loss at Consolidated at from $35,000 to $40,000. He said most of the loss resulted in making semi-solid buttermilk. The Consolidated manager said about 1,700 barrels and drums were knocked down by the flood and sent floating into the front part of the plant area.

One person was released after treatment and none of the others was believed injured seriously.

The plane, Flight 805 from Washington to Chicago via Pittsburgh and Cleveland, was flying near East Liverpool at 6,000 feet when the accident happened.

Arthur J. Gerard, 40, of Kawkawlin, Mich., who suffered a possible fractured rib, said "we were all sleeping. I woke up with a feeling I was going forward. Then I hit the ceiling."

Gerard said there was no confusion or panic. He said the incident was over in a matter of seconds. The plane landed in Cleveland around 3:30 A. M.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 — (AP)—Chairman Russell (D-Ga) of the Senate Armed Services Committee says if Korea fighting ends, military spending could level off to about $45 billion by 1955.

With Universal Military Training, approved in principle by Congress but still awaiting a go-ahead, the figure could be "well within that," Russell said. Military appropriations for the fiscal year ending June 30 total nearly $60 billion.

Airliner Drops 3,800 Feet; 5 Persons Hurt

CLEVELAND, Jan. 28 — (AP)—Eighteen passengers on a Capital Airlines coach plane were tossed about like peas in a pod and five injured Monday when a sudden downdraft caused the ship to drop 3,800 feet before leveling off.

The five were taken to nearby Berea Community Hospital after Pilot William Mason of Washington radioed for a doctor and an ambulance to meet the plane on its arrival at Cleveland Municipal Airport.

One person was released after treatment and none of the others was believed injured seriously.

The plane, Flight 805 from Washington to Chicago via Pittsburgh and Cleveland, was flying near East Liverpool at 6,000 feet when the accident happened.

Arthur J. Gerard, 40, of Kawkawlin, Mich., who suffered a possible fractured rib, said "we were all sleeping. I woke up with a feeling I was going forward. Then I hit the ceiling."

Gerard said there was no confusion or panic. He said the incident was over in a matter of seconds. The plane landed in Cleveland around 3:30 A. M.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 — (AP)—Chairman Russell (D-Ga) of the Senate Armed Services Committee says if Korea fighting ends, military spending could level off to about $45 billion by 1955.

With Universal Military Training, approved in principle by Congress but still awaiting a go-ahead, the figure could be "well within that," Russell said. Military appropriations for the fiscal year ending June 30 total nearly $60 billion.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 — Highlights on your income tax return, including changes made in the law by Congress last year, follow:

Usual, unchanged points to remember—

Midnight of March 15 is the deadline for filing a return on your 1951 income.

Who must file?

Everyone who had $600 or more income last year. Everyone—man, woman, child, married or single—who had that much income in 1951 must file a return, even though he owes no tax. If he does owe any he must pay it in full with his return.

Income under $600 is tax-free. So no return has to be filed on it. But some people with less than $600 income in 1951 had tax withheld. They should file a return to get a refund. It's the only way they will get it.

Forms for filing the return are the same as last year: Form 1040-A, a single yellow sheet; and Form 1040, a four-page return.

Most people, because most fit the rules for using it and it's the easiest to use, will use Form 1040-A. They're the under $5,000 income people who had all or most of the tax withheld from them in 1951.

THE UNDER-$5,000 people who can't use Form 1040-A will use Form 1040 either as a short Form—finding their tax in the table on the back—or as a long form—figuring their own tax.

People with $5,000 or more income have no choice. They must use Form 1040 as a long form, figuring their own tax, which isn't difficult.

Husbands and wives can still split their income by filing a joint return, even though one of them had no income, in order to get a lower tax.

Everyone filing a return gets a $600 exemption for himself, plus $600 for his wife, if she had no income or files jointly with him.

If she had any income, no matter how small, but doesn't file jointly with her husband, he can claim no exemption for her. If she files her own return separately she claims her own $600 exemption.

And—you get the usual $600 exemption for each dependent.

This year for the first time self-employed people begin paying a social security tax. They were brought under social security coverage by Congress late in 1950.

But until now they haven't paid any tax. To do so now, they must use a special form, called Schedule C. If you don't have this Schedule C, get it from your nearest collector. The tax is two and a quarter per cent of the first $3,600 of income. This social security tax on the self-employed is, of course, in addition to the regular income tax.

THERE'S A NEW rule for the who, employed by others, had social security tax withheld from their pay check. The tax on the employed is one and a half per cent on the first $3,600 of income, or a maximum of $54 a year.

In the past if too much social security tax was withheld from your paycheck—because, perhaps, you worked for more than one employer—you could get a refund only by filing a claim for it.

Now, if it happened to you in 1951, you can credit it against your income tax on Form 1040-A or Form 1040 without filing a special claim. You'll see the place to do this on the form.

While no one with less than $600 income has to file a return, until now no one with more than $500 income could be claimed as a dependent.

Under the new law the $500 fig-

Plant to Move To New Building

M. J. Whitfield Co. Here Is To Expand

The Whitfield Manufacturing Co. of Washington C. H., will be moved to a new location as soon as a concrete block building, now under construction at the corner of Millwood and Oakland Avenues, has been completed.

This was revealed by M. C. Whitfield, who has been operating a small plant at 305 West Oak Street for the past five years.

Whitfield was the general manager of the Aeronautical Products Inc. plant, now occupied by the National Cash Register Co. on the Chillicothe Road.

Whitfield came here in 1942 from Detroit, and during the peak of the booming war years he had 1,800 men working for him.

Since then, Whitfield invented a "Mac Revolving Center," which rotates with objects being turned out on lathes and which is said to be considerably more efficient than the outmoded type of dead center. A patent is now pending on the invention. Whitfield said the center will continue to be manufactured here at his new plant.

Whitfield's new plant will be in a concrete block building, 30 by 80 feet in size. It will have an arched roof and laminated rafters, which Whitfield says will make it the only one of its kind in the city.

Mrs. Whitfield has charge of the office work at the plant. Both Mr. and Mrs. Whitfield like Washington C. H., and both decided to remain here after the war was over and the API plant had closed.

Alcoholic Candy Not for Children

BERN, Switzerland. — The Swiss government's nutrition commission has published a nationwide appeal against the sale of liquor-filled candy to children of school age.

The free sale of chocolates filled with cognac, cherry, brandy or kirsch to children caused them to be "over-excited" at play and in traffic, led to undue fatigue in class and introduced them to the evils of alcohol at an early age, the commission said.

The commission appealed to parents, teachers and shopkeepers to protect children from alcoholic candy and guide them towards "the true sources of strength and health."

ure is eliminated and anyone with less than $600 income, who fits the other requirements, can be claimed as a dependent.

Until now no one could deduct for medical expenses unless they exceeded five per cent of his income. And then he could deduct for only that part which exceeded five per cent. This rule has been changed a bit.

Now a taxpayer—if he or his wife is 65 or older—can deduct the entire amount of his medical expenses for the care of both. For example: A man is 65 and his wife 45. She had the expense.

But such a taxpayer can't do this if one of his dependents had the medical expense.

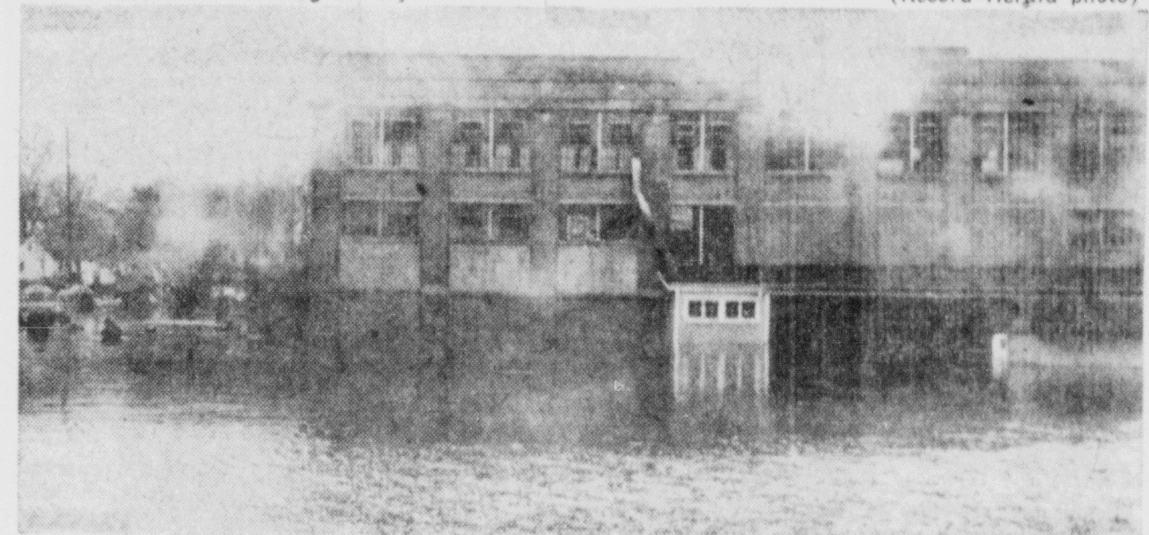

The law otherwise remains unchanged for taxpayers under 65. They can deduct only that part of the medical bill which is more than five per cent of income.

A person who sells his residence and then buys or builds a new residence one year before or after his sale, will pay no tax on any gain from the sale of the old residence, unless he receives more for it than he paid for the new one.

Camera Catches Some Highlights of Sunday Flood

FIELD HOUSE AT Gardner Park is surrounded by water up to 5 feet deep. Nearly two feet of water covers the inside. Circle Avenue (foreground) was submerged under the temporary lake; traffic was blocked after mid-morning Sunday. (Record-Herald photo)

WATER STARTED POURING over the dike—and then through a gap—at the Cudahy Packing plant about noon. Soon the water was over the parking area (foreground) and creeping up on the loading docks. A little later, it spread over Dayton Avenue, but traffic kept crawling through. (Record-Herald photo)

WITH SURGING PAINT CREEK smashing against it and lapping at the floor, the old Sycamore Street bridge vibrated and shook as if in its death throes. But it was still standing when the water started to recede. A rise of two more inches would have the tremendous pressure against the flat full length girders. (Record-Herald photo)

Future Teachers Plan Valentine Day Party Here

The Future Teachers Association of Washington C. H. had charge of the chapel program presented Monday morning in the Washington C. H. High School auditorium.

As their speaker they had Rev. Sanford Lindsey. Members taking part in the program were Sandra Griffith and Shirley Riegel. Miss Riegel introduced the speaker.

At their last meeting last week the future teachers discussed plans for a Valentine Day party to be held in the high school cafeteria at 6:30 P. M., Feb. 14.

Members of the social committee for the party will include Betty Lou Bapst, Barbara Barger and Marian Walston. Freshmen members of the group will do the serving.

The principal speaker at their last meeting was Harry Townsend, head basketball coach at Washington C. H. High School.

He told the group: "If you want to be a teacher, you have to live every minute of the teaching business."

Announcement was made that a short meeting of the future teachers will be held at 12:25 P. M. Feb. 7 in the library to make plans for the Valentine party.

Boy Scouts Hold Weekend Outing

Members of Boy Scout Troop 222 held an outing at Pike Lake State Forest over the weekend, according to a report.

They were accompanied by the following Scout leaders: Ray French, scoutmaster; Frank Lentz, assistant scoutmaster, and Ray Warner. At the camp the boys passed some of the tests for the coming Court of Honor, which will be held Feb. 4.

Troop 222 is assisting the March of Dimes campaign this week by collecting money for the campaign at the State and Palace theatres.

Appeal Rejected

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya. — Appeals for a stay of execution for three doomed Chinese terrorist sympathizers have been rejected by the Federation Court of Appeals.

One of the men was convicted of being in possession of six rounds of ammunition when arrested; another was convicted of abetting the murder of five police constables and the third, of supplying terrorists with food and other supplies.

Figures Given On Sales Tax

For the first week in the new year, every county of the seven in this immediate area, showed a decline in the sales of prepaid tax receipts than for the same week in 1951. There was a general slump in the state at large, too.

The second week shows only one county in the area having greater sales than for the second week of 1951. That was Pickaway, which reflected a very small gain.

For the second week this year the state showed a drop from $2,263,425.93 to $1,994,238.24.

During the second week, Fayette County's sales were $4,006.63 while in 1951 the same week showed $5,188.16.

Since July 1 last year, total sales in Fayette County have reached $204,749 while in the same period starting July 1 1950, sales were $204,962.12.

U. S. Pennies Scarce Despite Bigger Output

NEW YORK.—There was a scarcity of pennies in the United States in 1951 despite a double shift in operations by the Bureau of the Mint to meet demand. This caused rationing of pennies, as well as nickels and quarters, by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

In contrast, Great Britain's Royal Mint was trying to get rid of some of their oversize pennies by buying up and retiring one million dollars worth. There are about two billion British pennies outstanding.

Brest Now Restored

MOSCOW.—Brest, on the Soviet Polish frontier, has been restored. A report from the frontier city, where travelers from Western Europe first see the U.S.S.R., said the great damage done by the Germans during the war has been repaired.

All of the city's industry, the railway system and the school buildings were destroyed. All these have been rebuilt, the dispatch said.

How Many Hypocrites In Congress This Year?

During a discussion around the table at a Washington Rotary Club luncheon the other day one business man made this remark, "It won't be long until the people can judge how many sincere believers in reasonable economy there are in Congress and just how many members are hypocrites."

A blunt statement? Sure, but a remark that sums up what a great many people in this and every other community in the country are saying or are giving thought to the same sentiment.

Practically nobody expected President Truman to do otherwise than he did. Any talk he ever has made about economy has a strictly "hollow" sound.

This year, however, his $35,000,000,000 budget and his demand for higher taxes will put Congress to the test. Usually a great many members of Congress do a lot of speech-making against spending. Most observers would get the impression that Congress is almost unanimous in demanding that the budget be drastically trimmed and that taxes must not go higher.

Within a few months, if one can judge by what has happened in the past 18 years, many Congressmen will seem to undergo a change of heart. The pressure groups and administration cohorts go to work on them. Sometimes they have been known to finally favor even higher appropriations than those against which they earlier had railed and gnashed their teeth.

Of course, there are a number of stalwart members who usually stand firm in their demands for economy, but a great many do not seem able to oppose the pressure of "friends", or the administration whips who threaten to cut down their patronage if they do not agree to "go along". And this year is no exception.

Illinois' Senator Douglas did not indulge in a repeat performance of his famous wail of despair, but he thinks $4,000,000,000 to $5,000,000,000 should be squeezed out of the budget and "loopholes" in present tax collections closed before thought is given to more taxes.

Senator Connally, of all people, says people cannot stand heavier taxes and he'll vote against them. Tom has usually been on the other side of the fence, but he is up for reelection this year.

Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia and Rep. John Taber of New York, leading opponents of government waste in both branches of Congress—who always vote as they talk—are opposed to higher taxes and favor axing many items in the budget. Their stand will not have changed at roll call time.

Necessary government activities ought to be conducted as economically as such activities can be conducted, taxes ought to be reasonable and collected fairly, and the budget ought to be balanced. These things are simple and fundamental. The question is, why doesn't Congress see to it that they are done?

Congress is the only hope for the taxpayer. No one can expect President Truman or his pals to help make cuts. This is an election year and a lot of money to spend can mean a heavy influence in getting votes.

Those who argue for a 30-hour week are saying, in effect, that this country can whip Russia with one hand tied behind its back.

Here's Way to Happier Marriages

WASHINGTON — (P)—Mad at your wife—or husband? Thinking of going home to mother—or father? Convinced, after giving it a fair trial, that you plucked a persimmon in the garden of love?

Wait, friend. There's hope for you yet. An easy-as-pie new formula tells how you can put the magic back into your marriage—if you live.

The secret: Lose weight. Not just a few pounds from around the hips. Lots of weight. Pounds and pounds. Get to be scrawny, in fact. Thin down to the point where you'll have to walk past twice to cast a shadow.

This is the conclusion to be drawn from a survey called "Predicting Success or Failure in Marriage," by E. W. Burgess and L. S. Cottrell Jr. They make no bones about it: Skinny, bony people have happier marriages than their better-padded neighbors.

The happiest husbands and wives, say the authors, are likely to be 15 pounds or more underweight, which seems to show once and for all that malnutrition does more than psychiatry can to justify woman's ways to man.

Well, maybe.

But it doesn't work out that way among the people in our neighborhood.

It may be just coincidence, but the only couple within three blocks who regularly slug it out at the drop of an insult are thin, pale people who—in the opinion of their friends—would get along much better if they had a little beef on their bones.

And the most contented couple, on the other hand, are a man with a Charles Laughton figure and a woman with the approximate girth of a Beach Cabana. They hold hands in public, after 15 years of marriage, and they don't care who sees them.

The wife in this case started worrying about her weight, a few years back, and went on a diet. Ate nothing but bananas and steak, or some such nonsense. She lost weight, all right. But she also lost her good disposition.

One night, watching her husband tie into the potatoes and gravy, she threw a salt shaker at him. He was so outraged that, for the first time in his life, he went out and got loaded. When he came home, she wouldn't let him in.

He went to a hotel, phoned a lawyer, and it looked like the end of their romance. But his wife ate a couple of cream puffs, to soothe her nerves, and felt so much better that she went downtown and apologized to her husband. They went on a second honeymoon and there hasn't been a cross word between them since. She weighs in at 187 today, a gain of nine pounds since Christmas.

No, starvation doesn't really seem to settle the problem of man-and-wife discord. "Feed the brute," the wise old wives used to say. And if good living thickened his waistline, at least that made him less attractive to other women.

As for the man, any honest wife will tell you that he seldom takes a good look at her—and when he does, he sees her as the shy, slender girl he married, though she may by this time have all she can do to squeeze into a size 32 skirt.

One more secret and we're through! The man, in the back of his mind, has noticed every pound his wife put on. If he was a wise man, though, he didn't let it bother him. Chances are that, being happily wed, he found a lot of truth in another old saying: "A man should keep his eyes open before marriage—and half-closed afterward."

On the Borderline of Treason

In a free society such as ours is, difference of view must be encouraged. The tradition of our country and England is best symbolized by Union Square and Hyde Park where men rise to denounce or praise with equal freedom.

In my boyhood, for instance, Socialists, anarchists, free traders, atheists vied with Republicans, Democrats, sound money economists, and the Salvation Army. The Communists have had a free hand in their propaganda in the spirit of our country. They can lecture, issue pamphlets, publish newspapers and magazines and take advantage of every clause in the constitution.

Many Americans would prefer that Communists, Fascists and other separatists enjoy these freedoms rather than that our liberties be imperiled.

Now we encounter treason. It became apparent that while a creature like Fritz Kuhn was a careerist, trying to make a dollar by serving Hitler, the Communists are agents of a foreign government engaged in espionage, in sabotage, in stealing national secrets and in infiltration into government offices, educational institutions, newspapers, radio, movies and even the church.

Are we to say that everyone who is sympathetic to any position that the Communists take on any question is ipso facto a Communist and therefore a spy or a traitor? Obviously; that cannot be established and is undoubtedly untrue.

And here, a free society becomes puzzled. Where and how to draw the line? How to make distinctions between let us say, an Alger Hiss and a Rev. William Howard Melish? How to make a distinction between John Howard Lawson and, for argument's sake, Judy Holliday, who denies affiliation? Obviously, there is a distinction, but what is the formula?

The British face the same problem. They have been shocked by such disclosures as the treachery of Dr. Allan Nunn May, Dr. Klaus Fuchs, Dr. Bruno Pontecorvo, Donald MacLean and Guy Burgess. It raised for them the question as to whether any of their security agencies, including Scotland Yard, are of value against the machinations of Soviet Russia. "The Economist" stated the British worry over these problems as follows:

"... On the one hand, there is a deep and healthy dislike of imposing restrictions on freedom of speech except under the most dire necessity, and also a fear of making martyrs by legal action against persons whom the vast majority of their fellow countrymen regard with indifference or contempt. On the other hand, there is a feeling that the work of the British Communists on behalf of the enemy in the Korean war has really amounted to treason, and it is remembered that British subjects were hanged a few years ago for having done subversive propaganda for Nazi Germany during the Second World War."

No matter how this question is handled, there is inevitable repugnance to injustice and abuse of power. If men can be vilified by calling them Communists, they can be vilified by calling them Jews, Jehovah's witnesses, Christian Scientists, Roman Catholics or anything else.

Yet, Communists are traitors. And their treason is all the more horrible because they do not take the risks of honest spies. They hide behind the constitution with the object of destroying it. They take all the advantages of citizenship with the object of endangering their own country. They are a graveyard. As citizens, they are contemptible; as human beings, they are despicable. The Communists are skillful in using the law to their advantage. As "the Economist" says:

"... The free world by its very nature contains large numbers of individuals who are accustomed to see both sides of a question and who are always ready to hear the evidence for and against..."

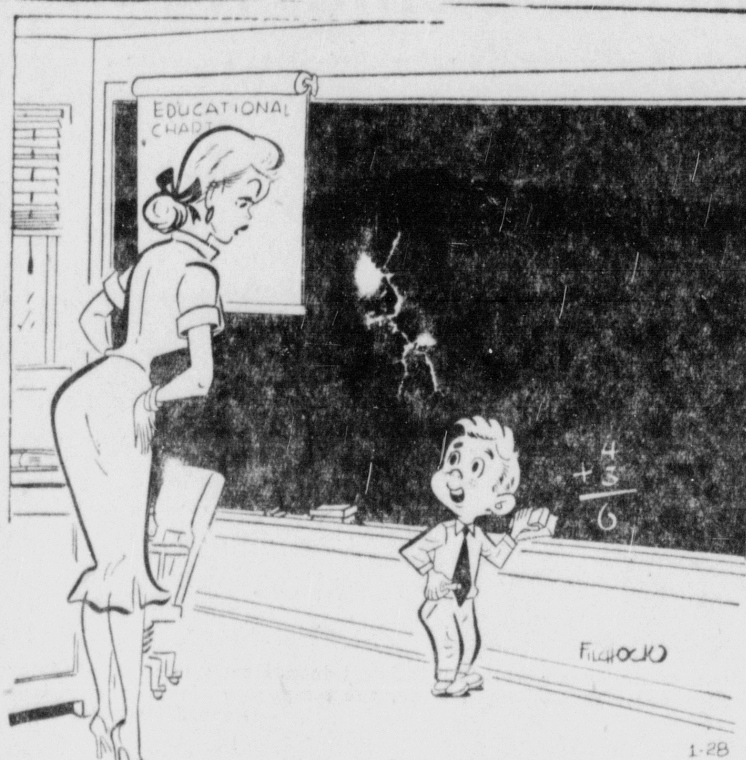

The Communist, however, is not only orthodox but bigoted. He is not only a convert but a missionary and an advocate. He knows deception but not compromise. He rejects conventional methods of debate but achieves his ends by dissimulation and infiltration. He is difficult to fight because he is difficult to get at. He achieves most in obscurity and only appears in the open when his reputation has become expendable.

Against such a foe our tradition leaves us almost helpless. We reject the use of his weapons to fight him lest they pervert us as they have perverted him. We fear the consequences of making him exceptional lest the structure of our freedom be damaged irreparably.

Yet, fight him we must if we are to survive. The formula is difficult: there may be injustices; but we cannot be conquered by default.

Diet and Health Early Heart Disease May Have Warning

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Many people approaching advanced age find that they have to rise during the night to empty the bladder. A frequent or urgent need to urinate at night is often the first symptom that something is wrong with an aged person's health.

In addition, the loss of sleep, restlessness, worry and exhaustion that result have been responsible for irritation in many a home.

In some cases, of course, urinating at night is not a sign of bodily disorder. A person may have to rise if he is in the habit of drinking excess liquids late in the evening.

Psychological Cause

Another cause is of a psychological nature, since an older person is not as sound a sleeper as a younger one. When an older person awakens in the middle of the night and cannot fall asleep right away, he may get up and urinate just through habit.

The more important causes of urinating at night, however, include heart disease, a kidney disorder, or a disorder of the prostate gland. Some conditions which increase the total amount of urine also cause a person to urinate more often in the daytime; this, however, may not be so noticeable or so disturbing as urinating frequently at night.

In a patient with heart disease, excess fluid usually accumulates in the body tissues during the day. At night, this fluid tends to flow off through the kidneys in the form of excess urine, which causes a strong urge to urinate. Thus, early heart disease can force a person to rise several times during the night.

Early Heart Condition

Any disturbance of the kidney, bladder, prostate gland or other urinary organs may cause frequent night urination. An early heart condition is the most common cause, however, and the most important one for most people.

It is a good idea for anyone with the symptom of night urination to consult his physician and have a thorough physical examination. This will reveal whether or not there is any heart or urinary disturbance.

Mrs. Stemler Is Hostess to WCTU Members

Members of the Washington C. H. WCTU met at the home of Mrs. Albert S. Stemler. Mrs. John Case, president, opened the meeting with a timely quotation by Abraham Lincoln.

In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. John G. Jordan, Mrs. B. E. Kelley gave the secretary's report and Mrs. Elza Sanderson gave the treasurer's report.

Mrs. Case read a plea from national WCTU headquarters that letters be sent to Senators Edwin C. Johnson and John C. Bricker on elimination of advertisements of liquor on radio and television.

A communication was read from Mrs. Urvin Edwards of Bloomingburg, Fayette County WCTU president, and the devotional period was in charge of Mrs. Omar Schwartz, who used as her theme, "How Great Is Your Faith, How Long Have You Prayed?", in which she stressed the importance of having an audience with the King.

The program leader for the afternoon was Mrs. Peter Smeltzer, who read articles pertaining to the subject, "Legislation," "Health and Medicine," "Temperance and Morality," and also presented the question, "Should the WCTU organization quit?"

In the discussions the answer was brought as no, and many reasons were given for it.

The meeting closed with the WCTU benediction and during the social hour following, Mrs. Stemler was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Loren D. Hynes, and Mrs. J. W. Haigler in the serving of tasty refreshments.

Runaway Car Chases Boy

NEW YORK — Thanks to quick thinking and a speedy pair of legs, 12-year-old Kenneth Sherman eluded a runaway automobile that chased him all over his Brooklyn neighborhood.

It started with a routine intersection collision of an auto and a bus. Kenneth and a group of youngsters were playing touch-football when the crash came nearby. All scattered.

The others took off eastward. Kenneth ran westward — toward home. The now-decontrolled auto jumped the curb, took after Kenneth.

The surprised lad took note, quickly reversed his field and headed south. The car struck a cellar grating, determinedly started across the street in hot pursuit—all the while with the upset driver struggling unsuccessfully with the wheel.

Panic-stricken Kenneth tried hiding. The runaway next bounced off a parked car and rammed a pole. Kenneth, hiding behind the same pole, was only slightly injured.

Inn Is Bought by Innkeepers For Hired Help at Big Resort

MT. POCONO, Pa.—After a working day is done, the hired hands at one Pocono Mountains resort "check in" at their own hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Strickland, operators of an inn near here, recently bought another nearby hotel for the exclusive use of their 50 employees.

The new property consists of two buildings, one with 28 rooms for women workers and the other an eight-room structure housing male help.

The larger building contains recreational facilities comparable to those provided for paying guests at the inn—including game rooms, lounges and a cozy fireplace. The new property includes plenty of acreage for outdoor fun and relaxation, too.

There's a chef to operate the workers' hotel kitchen. A modern cafeteria is being installed. The employers are supplying everything—food, linens, bedding, heat and light.

A housekeeper daily checks on everything, to see that top hotel standards are maintained.

The Stricklands are no star-gazing idealists but pleasant, hard-working individuals who combine their philanthropy with sound reasoning.

As Ed Strickland put it:

"Most of our employees come from nice families and are used to nice things. And a hard day's work doesn't seem so hard if you can relax afterward in comfortable surroundings."

"So this proposition works both ways. The 'kids' are happier, and happy people do better work. And there's less turnover in hired hands, which means more efficiency and a better deal for our own hotel guests."

Lights Go on Thursday Night For Mothers' March on Polio

Porch lights will be burning for an hour throughout Washington C. H. Thursday evening—from 6:30 until 7:30 o'clock—when the Mothers' March on Polio is to climax the 1952 March of Dimes.

Mrs. Charles Hurtt, the director of the "Mothers' Campaign" phase of the fund-raising drive, said no notice of the "Mothers' March" had been spread by word of mouth and through the Record-Herald.

Meanwhile, she added, the district directors of the march had been lining up a feminine army to canvass the city, house by house, to collect the contributions with which the war against infantile paralysis is carried on.

The Mothers' March is part of a nationwide movement in which lit-

Napoleon Fleet Salvage Sought

Scrap Metal Value Makes It Worthwhile

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt — Salvage work is at least well underway on the French fleet which was sunk in the Battle of Abukir bay. That battle, though it is now all but forgotten, was a decisive one for the world. For it ended Napoleon's dream of reaching India and establishing a dictatorship over most of the earth.

Napoleon's hope was to conquer Egypt and march eastward to India. The French fleet had come to nearby Abukir bay to protect Napoleon's army in Egypt, but the great British seaman Horatio Nelson sank the French ships in a daring exploit.

Today, 30 tons of iron and brass, already have been salvaged from the French vessels.

Most of this metal consists of cannon balls, anchors and guns. They are too rusted to be worth much as museum pieces, but the salvagers hope they'll prove profitable as scrap metal.

If the tides have not hopelessly covered too many of the 13 French warships that were sunk, the salvagers should do well. For the French ships were big and heavily armed. The flagship, Orient, carried no less than 120 guns on three decks and was twice as powerful as Nelson's largest ship.

The British were outnumbered as well as outsize. Seventeen French ships were anchored in a row in Abukir bay the night of Aug. 1, 1798, when Nelson arrived with 14 smaller vessels.

A capacity crowd is expected to fill the Washington C. H. High School auditorium as local concert members and many out-of-town visitors thrill to the wonderful songs of this 35-voice male chorus.

Mrs. Charles Hire, president of the concert association, reminded local members today to be in their seats before 8 P. M. Tuesday. Visitors from other concert associations will not be admitted to the auditorium until after 8 P. M. so that those holding memberships here will be assured of their seats.

Concerts of this high calibre and entertainment value will be secured next year, too, providing additional members can be obtained. Officials of the Community Concert association here are quick to point out that there would be practically no limit to the talent available if enough memberships could be sold to fill the high school auditorium.

The organization is a non-profit operation. All the money which is obtained through the sale of memberships, with the exception of a few small expenses, goes to pay for the talent presented.

EQUALITY

His home is on the boulevard.
Mine is across the track;
He has a mansion, fine and grand
I have a two room shack;
He has a shiny limousine...
I have a garbage cart;
He only lives two squares away,
But we are miles apart.

His skin is white and mine is black,
But underneath the skin,
In every particle and part,
We are the same within;
But he, in pride of blood and race
Has drawn a line between;
And in his sight, my kin and kith
Are socially unclear.

His blood is red and so is mine.
They circulate the same;
Our hearts are of the same design
Why should he make acclaim?
God made us of identic clay
And in the self-same mold;
I wonder if God, too, will say
I am outside the fold.

They say that in America,
All men are equal... free;
But this is just a catchy phrase
And false apostasy;
Equality is not for those
Who live across the track;
The brotherhood of man does not Include a two room shack.

women and children who have suffered from infantile paralysis, the director said. The lights of American homes, she continued, also will serve as a symbol of hope to those who may be stricken in the future.

"Here's the way the Mothers' March will work," she said. "Between the hours designated, every resident in the city will be asked to turn on his porch light—or to burn a light in his window—if he wishes to make a contribution to the March of Dimes."

"Then the mothers will march, street by street, block by block, house to house receiving contributions to this year's campaign against polio."

THE BASIC organizational plan for the "Mothers' March on Polio," she declared, calls for the appointment of an area chairman; captains or district leaders; lieutenants who will lead sections of the community; block wardens who will assign eight to ten houses each to the mothers who will make direct contact with the contributors.

"Last year," said Mrs. Hurtt, "more than half a million mothers throughout America took part in the 'Mother's March on Polio.' This year our community is part of a much larger effort. We are confident that the mothers of this county will give their time and their unequalled devotion to this appeal which is so close to their hearts."

Just how many volunteer mothers will make up the army in Washington C. H. is not certain, Mrs. Hurtt said. She explained that the army had been arranged by school districts—five of them—with the Parent-Teachers Associations forming its core.

THE PRESIDENTS of the district PTAs, with one exception, have been commissioned as the district captains: Sunnyside, Mrs. Robert Moats; Central, Mrs. John Morehouse; Eastside, Mrs. Otis Core and Rose Avenue, Mrs. Warner Penrod. For Cherry Hill, she is Norris Highfield, the vice president, because John Case, a father, is the president.

The director of the campaign estimated that there would be "from 25 to 50 volunteers" out in each district.

She expressed the hope that "no one will forget to turn on the light to take part in the campaign to raise the money needed for research and treatment in the war against polio."

5-Story Cincy Building Burns

CINCINNATI, Jan. 28.—P.—Fire broke out early Monday in a five-story business building in the bottom district, and fire officials reported the structure was "gutted from the first to the fifth floor."

The fire department reported that 17 pieces of equipment were dispatched to the scene. The structure housed woodenware, paper, printing and grocery products. All was lost.

He was buried in the coffin at St. Paul's cathedral in London.

One thing more the world got from the Battle of Abukir bay—the famous poem beginning "The boy stood on the burning deck." The boy was the son of the Orient's commander and the poem describes his last moments aboard the sinking ship. With it sank Napoleon's dream of global empire.

Cow and Calf Lost in Flood; 7 Saved

RECORD-HERALD PHOTOGRAPHER Hap Veerkamp with a volunteer helper at the other paddle go out to get a close-up picture of eight cows marooned in a barn in the lowland pasture along the east side of Millikan Avenue by Sunday's flood. A minute later a panicky cow tried to climb into the boat with them. All three went into the water up to their necks. Veerkamp saved his pictures but soaked his camera—and himself.

DAZED AND FRIGHTENED cow caught by Sunday flood in lowland pasture along Millikan Avenue has to be literally dragged out of the water to dry ground.

A handful of men who braved the chilly, swirling flood waters of Paint Creek for more than four hours rescued two horses and seven head of cattle from a barn in an 18-acre pasture across from Washington Park Sunday afternoon.

While hundreds of spectators offered their encouragement—and even advice—the men paddled back and forth in row boats from Oakland Avenue to the barn and sought by devious means to get the cattle on high land.

Frightened by the men in the boats, the dangerous waters and the spectators, the cattle turned time after time away from safety and headed back to the flooded barn.

TWO WERE CAUGHT in the current of the muddy waters of Paint Creek and carried away. One drowned before it reached the Millikan Avenue bridge.

Others were dragged, shivering, by ropes from the waters.

Men in row boats tried first to round up the swimming cattle and herd them to the safety of dry land, but when they were thwarted in this plan, they tried to lasso the cattle and have volunteers pull them, one at a time, to the safety of the chills, swirling flood waters.

Their heads barely bobbing out of the water in some places, the cattle fought to elude the men in the boats, and some became entangled in wire fences and cut themselves badly.

ONE OF THE steers tried to climb into one of the rowboats and succeeded in tossing its occupants—including Hap Veerkamp, Record-Herald photographer—into the cold waist-deep waters.

A calf which had to be pulled partly submerged through some 50 feet of water. Volunteers applied a crude form of artificial respiration and brought it around sufficiently to attempt to have it stand on its legs, but it was in a weakened and water-logged condition, and it was doubtful if it would live.

Another calf, which became frightened by all the excitement, was caught by a whirlpool and dragged into the current. It was pulled by the waters under the Millikan Avenue bridge and finally came to a stop against some bushes and debris on the west side of the bridge, where, reports indicated, it was pulled to safety. But

TWO OF THE NINE cows trapped in a barn by the swiftly rising waters of Paint Creek Sunday stand in dumb bewilderment while would-be rescuers try to drive them to a gap in the fence on Oakland Avenue. A calf and a cow were swept away by the stream and lost. The other cows were pulled out by boats after four hours of coaxing. One boat, carrying Record-Herald photographer, Hap Veerkamp, was upset and sunk when a panicky cow tried to climb into it.

those who saw the calf said it had little chance of living.

J. W. SMITH, who rents the 18-acre city-owned pasture, said this was the first time in his recollection that water got high enough in his barn to endanger his livestock.

He said he visited the barn early Sunday morning, and noticed the waters of Paint Creek moving up towards it, but he said the structural stands on a slight knoll, and he didn't think the water would get much higher.

But by 9 o'clock he decided to get the livestock out of the barn, and after much difficulty succeeded in driving two of his horses to dry land, where they were held by his son, Oat Smith.

"I have insurance on my cattle, but I just hate to see them suffer," the elder Smith said Sunday.

MOST OF THE rowboat rescue work was done by his sons, Oat, Jerry and Frank, and Cecil Humphrey, but they were assisted by scores of friends, neighbors and spectators, most of whom yelled words of encouragement and pulled on ropes being used to haul the cattle to safety.

City police patrol cars blockaded Oakland Avenue and finally strung a rope across the Oakland Avenue bridge to halt curious spectators, who were interfering with some of the rescue efforts.

Trucks hauled the livestock away to a safe, dry place shortly after 1 P. M., when the rescues were completed.

Smith reported Monday morning that two of the nine cattle in the barn were drowned. He said one calf which had to be dragged partially submerged through the water finally died. He said the others were given shots to protect them from pneumonia and were doing all right.

Cincinnati Bearcats Providing Little Show in Cage World

COLUMBUS, Jan. 28 — (P)—Cincinnati's Bearcats, deep in the basketball doldrums for the first time in years, see nothing to cheer about in this week's schedule.

The Queen City collegians, after dominating the Mid-American Conference for several seasons, have been beaten eight times in 14 starts, and have lost three of five in the rugged circuit.

And this week the 'Cats visit Western Kentucky, a team which whipped 'em 76-71 on the Cincinnati boards; entertain Ohio U., which upset 'em 78-66 in Athens, and then go to Chicago to meet DePaul, the club which triumphed 69-65 over top-ranked Illinois Saturday night.

The Bearcat jaunts take care of two of 21 games slated this week by Ohio colleges against out-of-state opposition. The contests take the Buckeye boys far afield.

LAST WEEK the Ohio clubs didn't fare too well in interstate competition, losing 11 of 16 games to foreign foes. That gave the Bucks 69 victories against 83 losses against the out-of-states for the campaign—a huge deficit despite the fact the Ohioans have been outscored only 10,317 to 10,273.

Bowling Green, winner of 10 of 15 games, visits North Carolina State, Stetson (Florida), Miami (Florida) and Loyola of New Orleans on a southern trip this week. Central State, boasting the state's only clean record with 10 straight contests, bangs into an outstanding opponent this week as Virginia State invades the Greene County lair.

The week's slate calls for 46 games, of which four are in the Mid-American Conference, two in the Mid-Ohio League, and a half dozen in the Ohio Conference.

Western Michigan, unbeaten leader of the Mid-American, is idle. The Broncos pushed second-place Ohio U. a bit further down the ladder Saturday night, 65-60 in Athens.

Oberlin, co-leader with Wooster in the Ohio Conference, passes up conference play this week, but the Scots visit Marietta and entertain Heidelberg. They must win both to stay atop the league.

MacPhail Slated To Brighten Bowie

BALTIMORE, Jan. 28 — (P)—Larry MacPhail, the man who put sparkle into big league baseball diamonds with amazing success, is ready to brush off some of his magic on Maryland's horse racing turf.

The "Barnum of Baseball" heads a New York syndicate which Sunday contracted to buy a controlling interest in Bowie track which now is in for the same razzle dazzle, hoop-to-do treatment that dressed up the Cincinnati Reds, Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Yankees.

Kids Get Chance In Crosley Field

CINCINNATI, Jan. 28 — (P)—While the Cincinnati Reds are away, the kids will play.

That is the word from the ball club management. The Reds announced that youthful aspirants may try out at Crosley Field during June, July and August while the Rhinelanders are on the road. Additional information may be obtained after the National League season opens from Farm Director Bill McKechnie Jr.

Parimutuel Betting In Ohio Is Upset

COLUMBUS, Jan. 28 — (P)—The Ohio Supreme Court Wednesday upheld a ruling that the Ohio State Racing Commission has authority to regulate parimutuel betting at tracks.

The Beulah Park Jockey Club, Inc., which operates Beulah Park

FORMER coach of the Chicago Cardinals and a figure in the National Football League for many years, E. L. (Curly) Lambeau is reported headed for the commissioner's job in that league. The post now is held by Bert Bell, who reportedly has been in ill health.

in Grove City, fought a commission requirement that totalisator be used at Ohio tracks more than three-fourths of a mile long. Totalisators, often called "totes," are mechanical devices for registering betting odds.

North Football Team Coach Aides Named

WARREN, Jan. 28 — (P)—Jeff DeHaven of Sandusky, Eli Floasin of Copley and Seraphin Pope of Lima Central have been named assistant coaches for the Northern team in the Ohio high school all-star football game in Akron Aug. 16.

They were picked by Chuck Riffe, Warren mentor who was named head coach of the Northern contingent last fall.

Riffe said he would meet with the trio in the next four to six weeks to start making plans for the annual battle.

New Coach Is Signed By Marietta College

MARIETTA, Jan. 28 — (P)—Marietta College has a new football coach, 32-year-old John R. (Red) Smith, a 1946 Muskingum College graduate.

Smith, who has been coaching at Roseville high school since 1946, was named to the post to succeed Ralph C. Patton, another Muskingum graduate. Patton held the job for two years.

The Syracuse University football team will play two night games this season. They meet Boston U. at home under the lights on Sept. 26 and Temple at Philadelphia the following Saturday night.

Only 2 Big Court Teams Undefeated

Illinois and Kansas Toppled from List Of Lossless Quints

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 — (P)—Down, down goes the list of unbeaten college basketball teams and now there are only two major quintets in the nation with unblemished marks—Duquesne and St. Bonaventure.

And on Feb. 11, assuming the two continue their winning ways, there will be only one because they meet on that date. Duquesne won't have it easy Monday night, though, when it shoots for No. 12 against Villanova. The Ducks then face Baldwin-Wallace Tuesday night and Akron Wednesday.

The Bonnies, with 12 in a row, aren't scheduled to play until Saturday, when they tangle with Loyola of Chicago.

At the rate the mighty have been biting the dust, it will be surprising, indeed, if the season produces one undefeated team.

Illinois and Kansas, running Nos. 1-2, respectively, in last week's Associated Press poll, were on the outside looking in after seeing their proud skins snapped Saturday night.

DEPAUL POLISHED off Illinois, 69-65, and Kansas State thumped Kansas soundly, 81-64. Illinois had won 11 straight and Kansas 13.

The defeat of Kansas has the most significance. The Jayhawks were engaged in a nip-and-tuck battle with state for the Big Seven lead. Both showed 3-0 marks in the league until the game. Now K-State boasts 4-0 to 3-1 for its rival. They have another date March 7, so Clyde Lovellette and Co. will have a chance to recoup.

Illinois' setback meant nothing other than breaking its streak. The Illini still are undefeated in the Big 10 with a 4-0 slate compared to 5-1 second place Iowa, which, incidentally, lost its first game last Monday.

Illinois has two games on tap this week, Purdue Monday night and Ohio State Saturday. On the basis of past performances, the league leaders should have no undue trouble with either.

In the Southeastern and Southern Conferences, nothing has happened to upset the leaders, Kentucky and North Carolina State, except a couple of close games which may or may not indicate trouble ahead.

Kentucky, undefeated with a 6-0 record, had to go right down to the wire to defeat Alabama, 71-67, while NC State (8-0) was forced into an overtime before emerging with a 58-53 decision over North Carolina. Florida is Kentucky's closest pursuer with 5-1 and West Virginia is hot on the Wolfpack's trail with 6-1.

Mangrum Grabs Phoenix Open

PHOENIX, Jan. 28 — (P)—Money is nothing new to golfer Lloyd Mangrum, but Monday he treasured a distinction which hadn't come his way before. That was a victory in the $10,000 Phoenix Open and a $2,000 check to commemorate the event.

Mangrum, one of the best gallery attractions in the sport today, made off with his initial triumph Sunday when he finished the 72-hole tournament with a 10 under par 274.

Georgia Golfer Wins Miami Test

MIAMI, Jan. 28 — (P)—Mary Lena Faulk, 25-year-old shotmaker from Thomasville, Ga., is the new Helen Lee Doherty women's amateur golf champion.

Miss Faulk won the 20th annual tournament Sunday with a 2 and 1 victory over Mary Ann Downey of Baltimore.

"IT'S SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD."

'Crow-Shayed' Sweater Found In Fayette Co.

WASHINGTON C. H., Jan. 28 — (P)—Game Protector Irvin "Pat" Patrick of Fayette County insists he has seen everything now.

He and some friends were shooting crows in a roost near the Greene County line one night recently and were having pretty good luck. But when they investigated the kill they got a shock. One of the crows had on a nicely tailored red sweater from head to tail.

Someone's pet crow had joined the wild birds and met his doom. Pat said that someone had taken great pains making the sweater and that it was fitted very neatly.

"No wonder the bird didn't go south. It's a shame he had to go 'west' instead," Pat lamented.

When asked if the sweater was a knitted one, Pat smiled and said "No, crow-shayed."

McGregor Tops Frank Sedgman

ADELAIDE, Australia, Jan. 28 — (P)—Big, hard-hitting Ken McGregor won the Australian tennis championship Monday when he upset Davis Cup star Frank Sedgman, 7-5, 12-10, 2-6, 6-2, in an all-Aussie final before some 6,500 surprised spectators.

Sedgman, regarded as the No. 1 player in the world, seemed to have an off-day, and McGregor was quick to cash in on Frank's frequent errors.

Mid-American Prexies To Discuss Policies

COLUMBUS, Jan. 28 — (P)—Seven college presidents, heads of Mid-American Conference schools, will meet here Sunday for discussion of athletic policies.

Among items they'll talk over are athletic scholarships, spring football practice, post-season bowl games and recruiting.

Three County Teams Play Tuesday Night; One Will Be Idle

One of Fayette County's four high school basketball teams will be playing on its home court Tuesday night, while two others will be on foreign fields and the other idle.

The Bulldogs of neighboring New Holland also are without a game for Tuesday night.

And, the Lion basketballers of WHS face a week of uninterrupted drilling for their Friday night game at Circleville.

The only home game Tuesday will be at Jeffersonville, where the Sedalia outfit will take on the Tigers. It will be the first meeting of the season by these two squads.

Bloomington's Bulldogs were scheduled to play the boys from Jackson Township (at Fox near Circleville) at Bloomington, but with the gymnasium there not yet completed, Coach Frank Truitt will take his aggregation to Circleville to meet the Foxes in the Coliseum there.

Good Hope's Mad Anthonys, boasting the best record of any of the Fayette County outfits, is to play at Mt. Sterling. They will meet the cagers under the guidance of Coach Ron Guinn, who was the assistant coach at Washington C. H. High School last year.

Ken Raffensberger of the Cincinnati Reds has averaged less than two bases on balls per nine innings since he entered the National League. These figures include intentional passes.

1,800 Babies Not Registered In Ohio Last Year -- Officials Make Study To Find Out Why

COLUMBUS, Jan. 28 — (P)—Who is most to blame for failure to report some 1,800 births in Ohio during 1950—physicians or midwives? Neither has a perfect record, says Ohio's health department, which makes a study of the situation in a report of several thousand pages.

On the basis of total births, it is the physician who was responsible for most of the 1,800 unreported births. On a percentage basis (for there were very few births attended by midwives), the midwife's record is far below that of the physician.

The "continuous demand" for certified copies of birth certificates has focused attention on importance of registration of births as they occur.

Health authorities have a pretty good idea about the general areas in Ohio where registration has been lax. It could be the baby born in your home in 1950 is not registered according to law. If so, the department urges, for the baby's sake, to make sure that it is registered.

THE LONG report of W. H. Veigel, chief of the division of vital statistics, went to Health Director John D. Porterfield.

"A person's birth certificate is his deed to citizenship," Veigel says. "It may be required to prove his right to enter school, inherit property, collect life insurance and old age benefits, obtain a passport, a driver's license, and for many other purposes."

The report listed comparative figures for 1940 and 1950, and was compiled in cooperation with the Bureau of the Census which carried out a test of the completeness of birth registration in Ohio.

Results of the test in 1940 indicated 92.2 per cent of the births that took place in Ohio were registered with local registration officials as required by state law.

A special test in 1950 carried out for the months of January, February and March indicated the completeness of birth registration improved to a 99 per cent figure during the intervening 10 years.

However, Dr. Veigel said: "Even though the percentage of the completeness of birth registration in this state seems to leave a little room for improvement we should like to point out that one per cent under-registration in this state represents approximately 1,800 unregistered births."

Students Organized

SRINAGAR, Kashmir — (P)—Kashmir's small but well-knit Communist party is concentrating on the creation of cells or pockets among Kashmir students.

Officials here said a procession of Srinagar students against "the British government's policy in Egypt" was Communist-dominated, and blamed the same left-wing organizations for a student strike against higher tuition in the state's schools.

Narrow Escape

PENANG, Malaya — (P)—A Malay woman and her four children escaped death in a village near here recently when a coconut tree, its roots undermined by heavy rains, toppled over and crashed into their kitchen. They were sleeping but a few feet away.

Commissioners Receive Bonds

Another Step Taken In Hospital Plans

A comparatively quiet session of the county commissioners was spent during their regular weekly meeting Monday.

The new county bonds for the Memorial Hospital expansion have been received by the county. Part of Monday's meeting was used by the commissioners and auditor to do the official signing.

When these $125,000 in bonds are ready to deliver to the First National Bank, the successful bidder, the money will be paid to the county and the funds will be ready for use.

The contract of C. Curtis Incho, the architect, who was engaged to plan and supervise construction of the new wing for the hospital, was delivered to the commissioners by Miss Christine Evans, administrator. They are required to sign it under the present law.

The signing was not completed Monday owing to the legal technicality which, according to acting county prosecutor, John Bath, requires the bond money to be paid over before any legal contracts can be completed on the hospital addition.

A small change in the contract was agreed upon also. It required the filing with the county, of complete working drawings and specifications, when the building contract is completed.

Six Deaths

the town is under an official emergency.

The crest means part of the business section of Marietta will have two feet of water.

Here's how the flood has affected Ohio cities:

Ohio River area:

Omro — Merchants moved stores out of their basements. Downtown area lies along river front. Most residents live in a hilly section.

Middleport — If expected crest of 56 feet is reached, many residents will be evacuated.

PORTSMOUTH — River rising, but would have to top 77 feet to go over new flood wall.

Cincinnati — River expected to reach flood stage of 52 feet Wednesday morning. A temporary crest of about 47 feet was reached Sunday night as flood waters from the Little Miami River emptied into the Ohio. Flood wall pumps at Newport and Covington, Ky., across the river, operating around the clock.

Central Ohio —

Columbus — Flood waters from the Scioto River in Columbus and Franklin County began receding Sunday after a record 3.57 inches of rain Friday and Saturday.

Delaware — Olentangy River crested one foot over flood stage.

Chillicothe — Scioto neared 15 feet early Monday, about five feet above flood stage. Expected to crest at 15 feet.

Circleville — Scioto stood at 22.5 feet Monday with a flood level of 15 feet. Crest expected late Monday. City's Ted Lewis Park was taking water and flood had seeped within inch of floor of city water pumping station, but appeared falling at noon Monday.

Washington C. H. — Paint Creek, a tributary of the Scioto, surged into downtown streets. Rowboats were used to rescue 10 head of marooned cattle.

Zanesville — Flood waters from Muskingum and Licking River which empties into it shut off U. S. Route 40 at a low spot on the western edge of town. About 400 families affected by high water and 200 of them evacuated.

Southeastern Ohio — Athens — Hocking River one foot over flood stage of 18 feet early Monday and expected to crest at 19 feet. That would put water in the lower Athens district.

Cub Pack No. 20 Reorganizes Here

Cub Pack 20, sponsored by the Eastside School, has been increased from two to four dens, and its leaders have been selected for the balance of the year.

At a reorganization meeting Friday the following cub pack leaders were chosen: chairman, Otis Core; cubmaster, Dick Steen; assistant cubmaster, Bob Morehouse; advancement chairman, Edward Stewart; program chairman, Vincent Lee; outdoorman, Paul Rodenfels; secretary, Mrs. Emery Lucas, and treasurer, Mrs. Herb Plymire.

Cub Pack 20 is the first pack in the city to take in a Negro unit. Den mothers include the following: Mrs. Paul Rodenfels, Mrs. Lewis Walker, Mrs. Richard Steen, Mrs. Marvin Crosswhite, and assistant den mothers, Mrs. Curt Koons and Mrs. Henry Zeigler.

At the last meeting of the cub pack at the home of Otis Core, announcement was made by Kenneth Chaney, institutional representative, that a short course in cub leadership would be held at Greenfield on Sunday, Feb. 10 from 2:30 to 6 P. M.

Jacob A. Flax Dies In Hospital Here

Jacob A. Flax, 77, died about 6:45 A. M. Sunday at Memorial Hospital following a stroke suffered Friday night.

Mr. Flax was pinned against the side of a garage by an automobile last June and he had been receiving treatment since for compound fractures of one of his legs.

Survivors include the following: three sisters, Mrs. John Stottlemeyer of Springfield, Mrs. Frank Patton, city, and Mrs. May Mahan of Austin, Tex. and one brother, Lester M. Flax of Huntington, W. Va.

Funeral services will be held at 2 P. M. Tuesday at the Morrow Funeral Home, with burial to take place in the Jeffersonville Fairview Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Morrow Funeral Home at any time.

Harry Allen Seeks County Treasurer Primary Nomination

Harry Allen, 49, Monday morning announced that he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination as the county treasurer in the May primary election.

Allen, a resident of Jasper Township, has been teaching veterans taking an agriculture course at Good Hope for the past five years. For some 20 years he was a teacher in the elementary schools, primarily in Jasper Township.

Married, he is the father of a daughter, Beverly, who is enrolled in Washington C. H. High School, and a son, Edward, who is married and lives in Columbus.

Allen received a degree in science from Wilmington College, in the class of 1927 and he holds a life certificate for teaching in elementary grades and high schools in Ohio.

For 18 years he served as a township clerk in Jasper Township and held offices in the village of Oeta and on the Jasper Township School Board.

At the present time Allen and his brother own and operate a 70-acre farm in Jasper Township.

Charles Fabb, incumbent, is seeking nomination as county treasurer and has already circulated his petitions.

1913 Floods Higher

south of the bridge, than during Sunday's peak.

THE BIG FLOOD of January, 1937, did not rise as high as the present flood here, but was a record breaker for the Ohio River and many of its tributaries. At that time many Portsmouth refugees were housed and fed here for several days.

While all streams of the county were at heavy floodstage, Compton Creek and North Fork of Paint were not as high as main Paint. Sugar Creek and Rattlesnake Creek floods did not reach the proportions of Paint Creek, according to reports.

During the flood 39 years ago, the old CHAD Railroad was the only one operating through the county.

When the great disaster at Dayton became known the night of March 25, 1913, Rell G. Allen, then commander of Company M, obtained permission and with the Greenfield Company, entrained here and moved into Dayton March 26, to render aid to that stricken city.

A carload of food was made up here and rushed to flood sufferers in Dayton. Other shipments followed.

RESIDENTS of this community, who had "only gotten their feet wet" in that flood, donated generously to the relief of Dayton flood victims.

The pumping plant was closed down here by the 1913 flood, and there was no auxiliary station to draw from.

The Daily Herald had an extra on the streets early March 26, 1913, giving the latest flood news, and warning citizens to conserve the water supply in every way possible.

Washed out water gates, damaged farms, highways and railroads were left in the wake of the great flood, so that loss was much greater in this vicinity than was caused by the present flood.

Mrs. Charles Mark Funeral Rites Read

Funeral services for Mrs. Martha Mark, widow of Charles E. Mark, were held at 2 P. M. Friday at the Hook and Son Funeral Home, with Rev. Allan W. Caley, pastor of the Grace Methodist Church, in charge.

Rev. Caley read the Scripture, prayer, read the poem, "Vista" and the hymns, "Abide With Me" and "He Singeth Low."

There were many beautiful floral tributes.

Pallbearers included the following: Maryon Mark, Tom Mark, Roy Duncan, Edwin Buck, Robert Bay and Clayton Cockerill.

Burial was made in the family lot of the Washington Cemetery.

Salvation Army Truck Is Coming Here on Thursday

A pickup by the Salvation Army of used but still useable clothing, home furnishings and the like is scheduled for Jeffersonville as well as Washington C. H. next Thursday.

The need for these things, it was said, is greater now than for many months because of the floods which drove hundreds of families in this district from their homes and destroyed or damaged much of their household effects.

A heavy drain on the Salvation Army's rehabilitation depot at Columbus was expected to continue for some time.

The collections made in Fayette County go to Columbus where the things contributed are cleaned and put into shape for use. And, it is from this depot that the Fayette County unit of the Salvation Army gets its supplies for emergencies.

W. J. Hilty, the county chairman, said Monday no calls had come to the Salvation Army for help for flood victims. However, he added, some can be expected later, after people driven from their homes by high water find out just what they lost.

The Salvation Army truck makes regular calls in Washington C. H. every Thursday. The calls to Jeffersonville are made less frequently.

Mr. Fred Johnson, who lines up the pickup routes for the truck, said she hoped anyone having anything to contribute would call here (31661) so she could give the name and address to the driver. That way she explained, the contributions can be placed in plain view and can be picked up without interruption.

Funeral services for Mrs. Ora N. Speakman, 80, who died following several years of ill health at her home in Columbus, Saturday, were held in the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home in New Holland Monday at 1:30 P. M.

Mrs. Speakman was born in the Clarksburg community and was a member of the Clarksburg Methodist Church.

Surviving, besides her husband, Arthur, are one daughter, Mrs. Ella Lilly of London; one son, Harry Roseboom of Ashland, Ky.; two stepsons, Hubert Speakman of Cincinnati and Harold Speakman of New Holland; one sister, Mrs. Lula Ater of Clarksburg; five grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Rev. Thomas W. Taylor, pastor of the Clarksburg Methodist Church was in charge of the services. Burial was in Brown Chapel Cemetery near Clarksburg.

A pint of ordinary water weighs about a pound.

Firemen Called Into Flood Zone

Firemen responded to one fire alarm in the flood zone on Sunday afternoon when they were summoned to the Richard Willis, Jr., home, 437 West Circle Avenue.

With Circle Avenue impassable at the time, the tanker truck was used. Firemen reached the house from the back way, off Highland Avenue, and had the booster line ready for use if needed.

It was found that a clogged flue had caused much smoke to fill the house and that there was no fire.

Fire Chief George Hall said the fire hydrant which was nearest to the house had only 4 inches of the top extending above the floodwater.

Four Arrests Are Made over Sunday

Three persons were arrested by the state Highway Patrol and two by the police over Saturday and Sunday.

The patrol picked up Richard C. Lauer, 37, Springfield, on a speeding charge, Arnold Downing of New Holland, also for speeding, and Jay Sherril, of Dayton for failing to transfer his license.

Police arrested William A. Stanaway for failing to have an operator's license. He posted $50 bond for his appearance.

Young Republicans Draft 1952 Plans

Three members of the Fayette County Young Republican Club attended a meeting of the Ohio Young Republican Club executive committee in the Deshler-Wallick Hotel in Columbus on Saturday night.

The members included Tom Mark, president of the Fayette County Young Republican Club, Jim Hutton and Neil Hercules.

Present at the meeting were 110 young Republicans from all over Ohio.

They received reports on plans to organize a young Republican club in each of the 88 counties in the state and heard of plans for obtaining 80,000 subscriptions to the "Ohio Republican News," official publication of the Republican party in the Buckeye state.

Plans have been made to hold executive committee meetings once each month to prepare for the coming 1952 presidential election.

Announcement was made that a few tickets to the Republican National Convention in Chicago might be made available to young Republicans on a first-come first-served basis.

Alvin I. Kneizer, president of the Ohio League of Young Republican Clubs, presided over the meeting.

Mrs. Bert Flint Dies After Attack

Mrs. Orva J. Fisher Flint, 66, who was born in Clinton County, the daughter of Samuel and Jennie Summers Fisher, Nov. 3, 1885, died suddenly at 2:15 P. M. Sunday of a heart attack.

She was visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Babb near Staunton, when she suffered the attack.

Mrs. Flint resided on Route 73 near New Vienna, and was a member of the Lees Creek Congregational Christian Church, the Sabina Eastern Star and the Melvin Ladies Aid Society.

Survivors include her husband, Bert; two daughters, Mrs. Hilda A. Woods of New Vienna and Mrs. Delitha Jane Levy of Fort Worth, Tex.; two sons, Harvey E. Flint and Charles Harold Flint, both of near New Vienna; one brother, Dr. Raymond Fisher of Miami, Fla.; a half-brother, Ernest Dailey, and a step-brother, Morris Dailey, both of New Antioch, and three step-sisters, Mrs. Katherine Fletcher of Fort Smith, Ark., Mrs. Ada Rhonemus of Lees Creek and Mrs. Carrie Mobley of Wilmington. Funeral services will be held at 2 P. M. Wednesday at the Littleton Funeral Home, with Rev. John Selzey, pastor of the Lees Creek Congregational Christian Church in charge.

Eastern Star ritualistic services will be held at 8:30 P. M. Tuesday at the Flint home on Route 73, out of Wilmington.

Burial will be in the Sabina Cemetery.

Truce Talk

Russia's 1945 treaty with Nationalist China.

Cooper called the committee's attention to implied threats against Southeast Asia made earlier at this assembly session by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky.

Cooper said he had been instructed by the U. S. government to "state clearly that any such Communist aggression in Southeast Asia would be in the view of my government be a matter of direct and grave concern which would require the most urgent and earnest consideration by the United Nations."

A detailed working draft of a 14-point UN plan for exchanging prisoners of war in Korea was handed Communist truce negotiators Monday in Panmunjom.

The Reds promised to study the proposal.

The prisoner exchange plan incorporates all basic points of the Allied proposal submitted Jan. 8, including voluntary repatriation which the Reds have said they never will accept.

It is a companion piece to the detailed draft on truce supervision given the Communists Sunday.

Staff officers were scheduled to start work on this Allied draft Monday, but the Communists asked for and got a 24-hour postponement.

The truce supervision subcommittee is in recess while the staff officers attempt to reach agreement.

Pilot Rides Bucking Skiff To Save Plane

SEATTLE, Jan. 28.—Howard Bothell rode a bucking outboard skiff to recapture his runaway amphibian plane Sunday.

Bothell, Auburn, Wash., auto dealer and pilot, was thrown through the windshield of the plane when a wing tip float collapsed while he was practicing landings on Puget Sound.

He was in the water half an hour while the aircraft, engine still roaring, cut capers around him in 200-foot circles.

The crews of four Coast Guard picket boats sent to the scene surveyed the situation and said they'd wait until the plane ran out of gas before attempting to board it. But Bothell decided not to wait.

He set out in an outboard skiff with William A. McClure, another pilot. They got aboard the fuselage and Bothell throttled down the engine.
